GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Political Drift.

Washington, July 6.—The Journal's Washington special says: More resignations under the civil service act prohibiting officers of the government to participate in political organizations are reported to-night.

The President will probably go to Hot Springs on a prominent southwestern men during the southern trip.

The friends of Wells and Anderson say they have indicted in New Orleans, to come to trial and demand that the president personally appear for their protection.

Washington: General Key said to-day the Post-master records perfectly on all questions of policy. He expects moderate men of both parties in congress to support the president.

The Milwaukee, July 6.—Yesterday the Greenback convention met at Portage to nominate a state ticket. About 100 were present. E. P. Allis of Milwaukee, was nominated for governor. The platform calls for paper money and free coinage.

Washington, July 6.—The postmaster general received a letter from E. W. Keyes, postmaster at Madison, Wisconsin, stating that four out of five members of the Republican executive committee are postmasters, and asking whether their signature for a call for a state convention will violate the spirit of the civil service order. As the convention would be called by any other means, they say the performance of the formal duty now indicated will not be considered a violation of the president's directions. The attorney general replied that although he has no power that each official should interfere in the matter for himself, yet he is of opinion that they may provide for the meeting of a convention and call it to order without attempting to control its organization or future action, would not, he inconsistent with the object or purpose of the president's instructions.

Further conversation to-day between the same western senator, incidental allusion was made by the latter to speeches recently made by Messrs Chamberlain and Conkling, with having on the 4th December, falsely and fo eneously uttered and published as true slanderous, forged and counterfeited returns for presidential electors. Suits are to be brought against Anderson and Wells for $5,000 each, and Anderson and Wells will surrender themselves and furnish the required bonds.

Wants to be Recognized.

Washington, July 6.—Gen. Mata, who was recognized as Mexican minister to the United States, to-day had an interview with Secretary Evarts, when there was free but informal expression of views by both. Gen. Mata alluded to the fact of his being in possession of credentials and inquired whether the secretary would receive them. The reply was he would receive for examination and consideration any papers he had to offer.

OREGON.

W. S. Newby, of Yamhill, sheared 38 Merino sheep, getting 511 lbs of wool. The heaviest fleece weighed 22 lbs and the lightest 11 lbs.

The Hillsboro Independent is convinced that there's a screw loose in the management of the state school fund. It says Washington county received $1,000 less in 1876 than in 1875.

Wednesday evening there was an affray at Amity between Mr. Goodman, a horse doctor, and Gus Angell, of Gopher valley. Angell was quite injured with a base ball bat. Goodman was arrested.

The Enterprise says: A deer, pursued by a pack of hounds across the Willamette at Corvallis ferry, jumped for refuge into a wagon that stood before the door of David Zimmerman and remained till he got his gun and shot it.

The Yamhill paper says: "Why wool should bring three or four cents a pound more in Douglas county than it does in Yamhill, so much nearer market, is a question which deserves some meditation that a cause may be discovered." The Umpqua people claim that their wool is uniformly better than our Willamette wools. Who knows?

A letter from Nehalem to Hillsboro Independent says: We have much heavy timber but it is interspersed with small bodies of land covered with hazel, willow, alder, maple crabapple, cascara, and vine maple and alder which have a small branch of water running through them which keeps the surface moist. These swales contain from one to forty acres with little or no large timber, which can be slashed for $6 and $8 per acre, while the large timber—fir, cedar and hemlock—can be slashed for $10 to $15 per acre. The soil of these swales is a black, sandy vegetable mold, with clayey sandy subsoil which reaches to the bedrock, and over this bedrock the water constantly seaps, sending the moisture to the surface through the entire dry season. This is why vegetation produces so rapidly that timothy produces the second crop in the year.

THE WAR IN THE EAST.

The Skuptchina Opened.

BRAZZYVATZ, July 3.—The skuptchina opened here to-day. Prince Milan's speech opening the session was very guarded. He expressed confidence that Servian blood, shed in the late war, would not be in vain, but the fate of christians in Turkey is now in more powerful keeping. He said that on his recent visit to thank the Czar for his protection of Servia the Czar assured him that Servians would never cease to object to his paternal solicitude.

Prince Milan invited the skuptchina to proceed in its legislative work with the greatest circumspection, since any false step or ill considered resolution might jeopardize the hopeful prospects opening out before Servia. The present government had a strong majority in the skuptchina.

Russo-German Relations.

LONDON, July 3.—A Berlin correspondent says the Russian ambassador had a long conference with Prince Bismarck. One of the secretaries of the embassy has left for Bucharest with a special report for Prince Gortschakoff and the Czar. The opinion is growing here that diplomatists are trying to fix conditions on which peace negotiations shall be eventually conducted.

Export of Horses Prohibited.

BERLIN, July 3.—The rumor that the German government will shortly prohibit the exportation of horses has been confirmed, and is probably to be attributed to apprehensions aroused by events in France. Other reports now are that the Hungarian government has extended the treaty from which the exportation of horses is prohibited.

Servian Independence.

VIENNA, July 5.—It is rumored that the first act of the skuptschina will be the declaration of Servia's independence.

England and the War.

NEW YORK, July 5.—Russia is using every means to satisfy Austria, and thus to secure her neutrality and leave England in the isolated position she would certainly occupy among the western powers if she engaged actively in the struggle under its present aspects. It will thus be seen the gravity of the crisis is increased by every advantage gained by the Muscovites over the Ottomans. It is a fortunate circumstance that Earl Beaconsfield's health is much improved, and that he is able to devote his entire strength to grave questions now before the cabinet. Earl Derby is much with him discussing dispatches almost daily received from Austria. Austria, it is understood, now says in certain eventualities she would act with England. These eventualities of course Russia is deeply interested in preventing.

Englishmen Getting More Hostile.

Interest in the war on the Danube is increasing intensely among Englishmen as a class, as the impression outgrows. The traditional prestige of the empire is menaced by every success achieved by the Russian army. The strength of this feeling is most apparent in its effect upon the hitherto dissonant tone of the cabinet. The progress of the invaders of Turkey in the direction of Constantinople, and more particularly the refusal of the Czar to give any promise not to occupy the Turkish capital, tended to unite the British ministry, and Earl Derby distinctly informed the Russian ambassador in London that Great Britain will not sanction Russian occupation.

The Feeling in Regard to Egypt.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 5.—The Golos newspaper says no attempt upon Egypt will be made by the Russian government so long as England remains neutral, but, that, should the time arrive when England can no longer remain neutral, the occupation of Egypt would be one of the first acts of Russia, and the next most probable movement would be English occupation of Constantinople.

Austria Dissatisfied.

NEW YORK, July 5.—A correspondent in Vienna telegraphs that the recent proclamation of the Czar to the Bulgarians has led to serious dissensions in the Austrian cabinet, while the indiscriminate firing on the consulates at Rustchuk has excited a renewed distrust of the good faith of Russia. The preliminary understanding professed with such emphasis at the beginning of the war it is clear has not been maintained, and the Austrian foreign minister, Count Andrassy, is preparing a protest against these acts to Prince Gorischakoff.

The Times on the War.

LONDON, July 6.—The Times, in a leading article, says if the Russians had captured Kars and Batoum they would have been strongly tempted to offer easy terms of peace, but now they have been so far baffled in Asia that they must strike with all their might in Europe.

Position of the Powers.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The Times' London special says: Austria's position is still the great point of interest. The Emperor of Russia is anxious to see the Emperor of Austria, and there is the greatest activity in telegraphic communication between Bismarck and Count Andrassy. Germany does not desire joint action of Austria and England in any direction. Disasters suffered by the Russians in Asia is now universally admitted. In regard to the military and naval preparations of the British government I have just visited Woolwich arsenal, and found the authorities there ready to dispatch an army corps at 24 hours' notice. All war material is in perfect readiness for shipment, and even baggage wagons and harness are laid out for issue.

Montenegro Again.

BELGRADE, July 5.—Mehemet Ali has been appointed to command the army in Thessaly and Suleiman Pasha is recalled to Constantinople, probably with his army. These measures give point to reports recently current that Austria and probably other powers have brought pressure at Constantinople to save Montenegro from being crushed, and also with the view of taking away from Servia one pretext for joining in hostilities.

The Russian Reserves in Asia.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Private correspondence of Russian officers which has been intercepted by Turkish scouts, furnishes full accounts of the recent disasters experienced by the Russians, and writers indulge in bitter regrets over bad management of the campaign by their generals.

Russia will now Make a Supreme Effort.

A supreme effort will now be made by the Russians on the Danube to make up for reverses sustained by their forces in Asia Minor. Plevna is still the scene of a fiercely contested battle.

Operations around Kars.

A correspondent at Pera telegraphs under date of July 4th, that Mukhtar Pasha has advanced his position near Kars. The line of retreat of the Russians is menaced by Faik Pasha who advanced to the northward of Bayazid. The environs of Van now swarm with Kurds from the mountains to harass the retreating Russians. Cossack cavalry have suffered awfully from constant attacks and surprises of those irregular allies of Turks.

Paper Credit.

LONDON, July 6.—A Berlin dispatch says German financiers are alarmed at the large Russian issues of paper currency. It is stated that since the outbreak of the war 16,000,000 roubles have been remitted. A telegram from Constantinople says that a decree will be promulgated authorizing the issue of one milliard piastres of paper money, redeemable in 20 years, at the rate of fifty million annually.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

House of Commons.

LONDON, June 3.—The house of commons sat from 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon to 7 o'clock this morning, chiefly in committee on supply. There were 18 purely obtrusive divisions, and several attempts to count out. The obstructionists were Nolan, O'Donnell, O'Gorman, O'Connor Power, Richard Power, Parnell, home rulers, and Mr. Whalley, liberal. Concern is expressed lest such proceedings, which have greatly impeded business during several sessions, may lead to alterations of the rules of debate curtailing the privileges of members.

Troublesome Members.

LONDON, July 3.—The Dispatch says the scene of commons was the scene last night of one of the most extraordinary scenes on record. Three Irish members having an altercation with the government kept calling for a division of the house, and made use of other parliamentary tactics all night.

To be Exiled.

PARIS, July 3.—Senor Zoretta and other Spaniards implicated in the plot against the Spanish and French governments, will be exiled from France.

Flood in Spain.

MADRID, July 3.—Inundations in the province of Murcia have seriously damaged railways. 22 persons were drowned.

Rammed and Sunk.

TOULON, July 3.—The French man-of-war Reinblanche, has been accidentally rammed and sunk off Hiers Island by the French ironclad Heroine. Nobody drowned.

Chinese More Liberal.

HONGKONG, July 4.—The Chinese government has consented to negotiate with the treaty powers for levying the lekin-lekin tax at consular ports on a more liberal principle than established by the Chefoo convention.

Five Hundred Men Sacrificed.

LIVERPOOL, July 4.—The steamer Volta, which arrived here, reports that it is rumored that the king of Dahomey, after paying indemnity to the British government, determined to make a human sacrifice of 500 of his men to the Fetish.

Attitude of France Discussed.

BERLIN, July 3.—The Post, (Ministerial) has published two remarkable articles comparing the present visit of the French ambassador to Ems, with Benedotte's visit in 1870. It says:

France to-day confronts a second plebiscite. The republic means peace for Europe; a monarchy resting on ultramontanism is war.

Pan Presbytery.

EDINBURGH, July 4.—In the morning session of the Pan Presbyterian council to-day, Rev. Dr. Schaff, of New York, introduced the discussion on harmony of confessions of reformed churches. The matter was submitted to a committee. In the afternoon the principles of presbyterianism were discussed. Rev. Dr. Hodge, of Alleghany, and Stuart Robinson, of Louisville, took a prominent part. Rev. Dr. Prime, of New York, reported there were 12,000 Presbyterian congregations in the United States who subscribed over £1,000,000.

A Cardinal's Daughter.

ROME, July 4.—Countess Lauretti Lamberting, who asserts that she is a natural daughter of Cardinal Antonelli, has commenced an action claiming the whole of his property, which is estimated at many million francs.

Dr. Strousburg.

MOSCOW, July 4.—By the Czar's order the insolvency decree against Dr. Strousburg, railway speculator, whereon he was imprisoned, has been annulled. He has been released from prison, but is detained under surveillance until the sentence of banishment can be carried out. Strousburg is a German subject.

Bonds.

LONDON, July 5.—Consols, 94 9-16; 4½s, 105¾; new 5s, 108¼; 6?s, 106¾.

Heavy Failure.

LONDON, July 5.—It is reported from Manchester that a large Yorkshire manufacturing establishment is in difficulties. The liabilities are said to be a million and a quarter. Bad state of trade is given as the cause of the difficulties.

England Nominates Grant for a Third Term.

NEW YORK, July 6.—A special from London says: The address presented to Grant at Folkestone, recited the idea of honoring the general for his deeds on the battlefield, and concluded by expressing a wish that he might have a third-term as president of the United States, and advancing the opinion that he would.

The Pan Presbyterian Council.

EDINBURG, July 5.—In the Pan Presbyterian council to day a paper on pulpit eloquence was read. After discussion, in which Mr. Wills, Toronto, and various Scotch divines participated, a motion was adopted that simple preaching of the Bible was the true work of the ministry. In the evening addresses were delivered on missions in the United States and other lands, by Rev. Van Dyke, of Brooklyn, Rev. Cyrus Dickson and others.

The Pope has the Dropsy.

ROME, July 5.—The ill health of the Pope is aggravated, Dropsy has set in. An operation was attempted but weakness prevented.

The Famine in India.

BOMBAY, July 4.—The famine in this district is daily doing better. Rain is plenty and sowing has begun. The position in Madras is still grave, and over a million persons are fed by relief works.

Roman Scan. Mag.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The Herald's cable telegram has the following additional details regarding the Rome scandal: The suit of Countess Lambertini, which commenced in the civil tribunal yesterday, is causing a great deal of comment, especially among the Italian aristocracy. The countess has been recognized for years as the natural daughter of the late Cardinal Antonelli. As such she has been received in society, and as such she was always treated by the cardinal. Finding no provision was made for her in the cardinal's will, she has instituted this suit in the civil tribunal, which bids fair to be a cause celebre, demanding a full share of the enormous estate the cardinal bequeathed to others. Antonelli's heirs oppose her claim because, as they allege, the countess is a sacrilegeous daughter; that the act of her mother was a sacrilege, her father at the time of cohabitation being in holy orders. But the Italian code makes no distinction of this kind, as plaintiff sets forth in her statement presented by some of the ablest counsel in the holy city, and the defense has the smallest shadow of justice, because the cardinal always recognized her as his daughter among her immediate relatives. In his will the cardinal instituted his brothers, Felippo, Gregorie, Luigi and Angelo, and his nephews, Angostino and Paolo, sons of Gregorie and Luigi, his universal legatees, and left bequests to his sister, Mme. Sanguigni, and several neices of the Antonelli family, but he totally ignored the existence of the countess.

MEXICO.

The Mexican Status.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Private Mexican letters urge as evidence that Diaz, though himself the production of revolution, is really a constitutionalist. The fact is that he called Romero and Manchera to his cabinet. Both were opposed to the revolution. Diaz has also deposed from the command of Brig. Gen. Monteel, one of the fiercest defenders of the Tehuantepec revolutiona y plan. Diaz's efforts to re establish constitutional government have lost him the support of the revolutionists but won the support of the more respectable old Juarez party.

Considerable furniture and silver table service formerly belonging to Maximilian, have been discovered in possession of the family of Gen. Francisco Leyra.

The Mexican press is discussing warmly the question of free trade versus protection. This is accepted as a sign that the people are tired of revolutions and disposed to expend their force rather in the discussion of practical questions of political economy. Peace is re-established in nearly all the states, and the probability of a new revolution in Lerdo's interest seems materially lessened.

Yamhill Reporter: Subscription to the capital stock of the P. P. T. Co., of this place, is going ahead quite vigorously in Polk county for another boat. The secretary received $2,500 in one day this week. Polk and Yamhill have had a taste of the fruits of this enterprise and it is pleasant to the palate.

The widow of the late Francis P. Blair died on the 5th at White Sulphur Springs, Md., at an advanced age.

An annual report on the Kidderminster carpet trade says that among the latest consumers of Kidderminster fabrics are the Chinese, for whom small squares of carpets on which to say their prayers have been made in considerable quantities in that town.

THE IDAHO INDIAN WAR.

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN.

WALLA WALLA, July 6, 1877.

The following extracts are from the Lewiston Teleo extra just received:

July 4th.—On July 2d, L. P. Brown writes from Mount Idaho: Col. Whipple's command, with volunteers, under charge of D. B. Randall, came across Looking Glass' band at Clear creek, yesterday morning, at 7 A. M. The Indians told the colonel that they were prepared to fight, and it is said they opened the ball by firing the first shot. When the order was given to commence firing the Indians soon broke for the hills and places of shelter. It is not known how many were killed or wounded, as they scampered in all directions. They captured the Indian camp and burnt all their provisions and plunder, and took about a thousand head of Indian horses, which they brought here, and which are now in charge of a detachment of Col. Whipple's command. No citizens or soldiers were killed or wounded. The command returned last night.

The Indians have burned down property belonging to Mr. Dempster, county commissioner, and I suppose will do much more damage before they can be checked. Capt. Elliott of the Idaho Rangers, captured 75 of Joseph's cattle and 40 horses. They had a skirmish on the Nimnaho. He says he don't know how many were killed as they had to retreat. The Indians are mostly between Snake and salmon rivers. They are now reported at 900 strong and well armed.

Captain Booth will go to the Wallowa with 70 men from Cove. There are 21 men from Union county, Oregon, now in the Wallowa valley. The following letter from Lewiston has just been received here, which is reliable: Messenger came in this morning saying that the Indians had found the soldiers at the Cottonwood, and that they had a fight. Ten soldiers, Lieutenant Rains and two citizens reported killed. Fight still progressing, and the Indians retreating.

News received at department headquarters from General A. Sully, commanding at Lewiston, I. T., says: Col. Perry with 30 men, on his way to Cottonwood, were attacked by hostiles. Lieut. Rains, ten soldiers and two citizens were killed. Colonel Whipple joined Perry and drove the Indians off. The fight is still going on.

Major Jackson's company, 1st cavalry, which left Fort Vancouver yesterday morning will arrive at Lewiston to-morrow at noon.

Gen. Howard to Have Another Regiment.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—The war department has issued a general order directing the transfer of the second regiment from the department of the South to the division of the Pacific for the purpose of reinforcing General Howard.

The following dispatch comes from Wallula. It probably reached there by the Tenino, which arrived at 9:15 last (Thursday) night:

They say that Joseph decoyed Gen. Howard across Salmon river and then Joseph recrossed the Salmon river and got on Cottonwood between Howard and Lapwai, within 30 miles of Lewiston.

Bad Reports from the Palouse Country.

Mr. S. G. Reed of this city has just received the following dispatch from Mr. John A. Faull of San Francisco, who has just returned from Colville, dated Palouse Landing, 3d inst., via Walla Walla 6th inst.:

"Mr. Oppenheimer and myself arrived here safe and well this evening. When we crossed the Spokane bridge yesterday there were between 300 and 400 buck Indians said to be in council, all well armed and equipped. They consisted of Yakimas under Moses, Palouse, Sanpereils, Spokanes, Calleshells and renegade young men from other tribes, names not known. The outlook for this country is bad. All the settlers on Pine creek and the Palouse plains, except five men, have left. The country is in the hands of the savages, and it is a sad sight to see the people running for their lives, and leaving all they have, except their children, to the mercy of the wild Indians, flushed with victory.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

On the 4th two men were drowned in Penobscot bay, a sword fish having capsized their boat.

The secretary of war arrived unannounced at Leavenworth, Kansas, on Thursday night, and is a guest of Gen. Pope.

At Cacheville, Cal., on Wednesday, Charles E. Hackney committed suicide by shooting himself in the head with a pistol.

A Goshen, N. Y., dispatch says the larger portion of the village of Chester, at Erie depot, was burned on the 5th. Loss, $65,000.

It is reported a Toronto that Sir James Fergus, a well known diplomat, is to succeed Lord Dufferin as governor general of Canada.

The president and cabinet will go to Vermont to be present at the centennial anniversary of the battle of Bennington, on the 16th August.

The Orangemen of Montreal will parade July 12th. They condemn the mayor for refusing them protection, except of private individuals.

E. H. Chapin, of New Orleans, publishes a denial that he has resigned the pastorship of the Church of Divine Paternity or changed his relation there to.

Several descendants of Jacob Lick, brother of the late James Lick, have filed a notice in the probate court at San Francisco to the effect that they intend to claim a division of the estate.

Gen. Sherman passed the Fourth at military headquarters at Chicago, as the guest of Gen. Sheridan. He left for St. Paul with two staff officers for a visit of some weeks on the Yellowstone.

At San Francisco the Democrats are trying to arrange their petty differences. The two opposing county committees met the state committee at the Palace hotel and laid their arguments before that body, which will render a decision in the matter.

A Chicago dispatch says the receiver of the Republic Life Insurance Co. after careful examination of the books says from information in them and from other sources, he concludes there is a balance of nearly three and a half million dollars against the company.

A Pioche, Nev., dispatch states that two men, named Hol and and Carter, were murdered by Indians on the reservation in Southeastern Nevada, last Sunday morning. One of the murderers has been caught. It is reported at Pioche that an insurrection has broken out.

The supreme court of California, in the mandamus case by which Kentfield, who ran on the Republican ticket for state controller, sought to compel Gov. Irwin to give him a certificate of election, has rendered a decision adverse to Kentfield. The decision is signed by the full bench.

Miscellaneous War Notes.

A Vienna special says for ten weeks to come the climate will preclude any effective warfare.

An Erzeroum dispatch says both armies remain inactive. The Russians are evidently awaiting reinforcements.

It appears that the horrible sacking of Sistova, attributed by the Russians to native Bulgarians, was really perpetrated by the Russians themselves.

An Erzeroum dispatch says it is unlikely even if the Russians are strongly reinforced, that they can successfully renew the campaign in Asia this year.

Many Turks whilst working their guns at Rustchuk, have been killed by rifle fire from houses adjacent to forts. These mysterious assassinations are causing bad blood against Bulgarians.

THE BOVER INVESTIGATION.

Special report for the OREGONIAN, by John W. Cochran, short-hand writer and law reporter.]

Third Day Continued.

[Examination of H. Straight concluded.]

By Senator Saulsbury—I ask you the question again, whether in the arguments they stated among others that you might be charged with having received money to break up an election of Democratic senators? A. That is the way I understood it.

Senator McMillan—Did you say you voted for Gov. Grover because he received a majority of the votes in the caucus? A. That was one reason.

Q.—How many majority did Grover receive in the Democratic caucus? A. I couldn't say.

Q.—How many Democrats were in the caucus? A. I don't know how many.

Q.—Did Gov. Grover receive a majority of Democratic votes in the caucus? A. I was not there. I was told by members that were there they all answered to their names and voted for Mr. Grover.

In answer to questions by Senator Morton, witness testified that it was very late at night when he called on Gov. Grover, and informed him that he understood he (Grover) had received a majority of votes in the caucus, and that witness would vote for him; that he called on Grover at so late an hour because they were occupied in holding their caucuses, both Republicans and Democrats; that Grover was at the Chemeketa hotel at the time.

Q.—Had you seen Mr. Goldsmith in the course of that evening? A. I might have seen him, I could not state.

Q.—Did you meet Mr. Johns that evening? A. I'm not acquainted with him. I would not say.

Q.—Did you meet Mr. Henderson? A. I could not say, am not acquainted with him.

Q.—Did you meet that evening, or at any time during the session, a man by the name of Bachman, a broker living in this city? A. I don't remember of meeting him that evening.

GEO. L. CURRY

Was called, sworn and testified: Had been a resident of Oregon for 31 years; had been governor and acting governor of the territory for 6 years; knew Straight; he was a man of irreproachable character; had talked with him about the senatorial question; Straight was a Nesmith man, but such a pressure was brought to bear upon him that he could stand out no longer; heard rumors of money being used, it was only street rumor; don't know that such charges were any more rife than on other similar occasions, not more so than when Mitchell was elected; did not know anything about money being used.

S. F. CHADWICK

Was called and testified as to his residence, business, etc.; that he was not a candidate; took no sides in the senatorial contest; when he heard that his name had been mentioned in the caucus he requested it to be withdrawn; heard rumors of money being used; as to some of these rumors he heard that they had come from Gen. Nesmith; did not remember that Republicans made the charges, though they might have mentioned to witness what they had heard; witness also gave the circumstances connected with the alleged resignation of Watkinds and appointment of Burch to the superintendency of the penitentiary; he had held no communication with Watkinds, understood Watkinds claimed to have tendered his resignation to Grover and that the resignation contained some insults to witness; had never seen that resignation, it was never put on the files; Burch was appointed on the 8th of February.

Q.—You know this gentleman from Tillamook, a member of the house? A. Yes, sir.

Q.—Who was he for? A. It was my impression at the time the caucus was held that he was in favor of Nesmith.

Q.—And he voted for Mr. Grover in caucus did he? A. Yes, sir.

Q.—Do you know what time he changed from being Nesmith's friend to Grover? A. He stated to me that Mr. Nesmith had acted in bad faith by not going into the caucus, and for that reason changed to Gov. Grover.

Q.—Did he say anything to you in regard to Mr. Grover, or to anyone on his behalf having made him an offer in money? A. No, sir.

Q.—Was he (Wilson) a farmer? A. Yes.

Q.—Did he own the farm? A. Yes.

Q.—How much land did he own? A. Only 640 acres.

Q.—Do you know anything about his circumstances? A. Well, I have learned more since his death than I knew at that time; he must have had a few thousand dollars.

Q.—What is the law of your state in regard to the value of real estate on which the school fund must be loaned, how much margin? A. One-third of the loan.

Q.—Clear cash amounts—It must be worth three times as much of the loan? A. Yes, sir.

Q.—Did you consider the piece of land mortgaged (to Wilson on one school fund to the amount of $1,600) worth three times as much as $1,600? A. I do; it was appraised at that; we took on the appraisement made by neighbors in the neighborhood.

Q.—Did he tell you when he first applied for the loan that he had any assurance that he would get it? A. No, sir; I did not think at the time he applied he would be able to get it; the money was not there; he did not get it until some time in March.

Q.—Who takes these loans? A. Made by the school land commissioners.

Q.—Who constitute the board? A. The governor, secretary of state and state treasurer.

Q.—Do you know anything of Mr. Wilson having other debts outside of this? A. I learned, since his death, that debts outside had been accumulated by his family; small debts.

Q.—Did he say anything in regard to his having been offered money to vote for Grover? A. No, sir.

Q.—Do you know a man by the name of Mosier? A. I have been introduced to him; am not acquainted with him at all.

Senator Saulsbury—Do you know whether the members of the caucus invited the different candidates to appear before the caucus? A. I understood so; yes, sir.

Q.—Gov. Grover had nothing to do whatever with the loan? A. No.

Q.—You were acting governor at the time and authorized as one of the officers to make it? A. Yes.

Q.—I'll ask you whether the loan was made to Mr. Wilson in consideration of his action in the legislature in voting for Grover? A. No.

Q.—Was anything ever said to you by Mr. Grover or anybody else to influence you to make any such loan? A. No, sir.

Witness further testified that he believed Mr. Wilson was incapable of being corrupted; was a member of the Baptist Church, a Mason, and highly respected; had some sheep, in which witness was interested with him; that the law of Oregon allowed a loan of school funds on appraisement not sworn to; that $1,500 was not considered a large loan.

H. STRAIGHT RECALLED.

By the Chairman: Q.—Do you know a gentleman by the name of Thompson? A. Yes, sir.

Q.—Have you had any conversation with him at any time in regard to this senatorial matter? A. I have.

Q.—When did you have the conversation with him on that subject? A. I have forgotten the date; perhaps a month or two ago.

Q.—Did you make any statement to him with regard to the use of money in that contest? A. I don't think I did.

Q.—I will ask if you told him he you knew of three men who received money? A. No, sir.

Q.—In that conversation did you mention the name of Mosier? A. He mentioned Mosier's name to me, and we talked about it.

Q.—What did he say about Mosier? A. He met me on the street, and, says he, Mr. Nesmith has sent some word to you. Said I, what is it? Well, he says, Mr. Nesmith has told me to tell you that he don't believe that you got a cent for changing your vote in favor of Grover, but he thinks you were prompted by your own judgment, and was sincere in the course you took without the use of money. Said I, what is this going to amount to? these charges against Grover? Well, he said, he didn't know, but he thought they would succeed in proving that Mosier got money.

Q.—Did you give him any opinion about it yourself? A. I don't remember that I did.

Q.—Do you remember that you did not? A. I don't remember that I didn't. We talked about it and I might have said this; perhaps I did, that if there was any money used that Mr. Mosier might have been more likely to get it than any other man I know. I know no man who changed his vote when I did, got a cent of money.

Q.—You know that? A. Yes, sir.

Q.—How do you know it? A. Because I was the first to change my mind, and I persuaded the rest to do the same, I suppose I did it at least I endeavored to persuade them.

Q.—If you had made any statements to Mr. Thompson that money had been paid would you remember it? A. Yes sir.

Q.—If you gave your opinion that money was used, what was the ground of that opinion? A. I did not give my opinion that it was used, but merely said, if it was used, it was more than likely to be Mosier who got it.

Q.—Why do you think it would more than likely be Mosier—on what ground? A. I had but one ground to form my opinion on; that from the fact that he said they would be like y to prove it.

Q.—That Mosier said? A. Mr. Thompson said that they would be likely to prove that Mosier got money.

Q.—What was the ground for saying it would more likely be him? A. From the fact that we all agreed that if we changed our vote, we would notify Mosier that we now change our votes in favor of Grover, and Mosier changed his vote without notifying us.

Q.—Did you notify Nesmith? A. I did.

Q.—When did you notify him? A. On the morning of the election of Grover.

Q.—Had you seen him the night before? A. I had; at this meeting. The meeting adjourned, and I went home. Saw him no more that night.

* * * * * * *

Q.—And you had no other reason for the supposition that he (Mosier) would likely be the man, (who got money) except from the fact that he had not notified you

The Daily Oregonian.

SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 7, 1877.

A TIME TO CONSIDER.

To Senator Grover it is of the highest importance that Messrs. Mosier and Butler be produced immediately; not so much for their vindication as for his own. They are comparatively obscure, and the shafts of criticism and censure may fly over their heads while they affect not to notice them. With Senator Grover it is very different. He occupies a prominent public position. Not Oregon alone, but the whole country is a witness of what is going on here. Developments have been made which create a presumption that money was used to bring about his election. For his agency in the Cronin business Gov. Grover was very sharply criticised throughout the United States. Recollection of his part in that transaction will not incline the judgment of the country to leniency now, but will have a very opposite tendency. In this investigation matters have been developed which he cannot afford to let pass as they are. It is of the last importance to him that certain members of the legislature, particularly Mosier of Wasco, shall be brought upon the stand. But unfortunately the present conduct of these members increases the disagreeable suspicion. Why should it not now be possible to find them? In the mind of every one the present movements of Mosier will be interpreted as a consequence of transactions at Salem to which the testimony given before the committee points. For the vindication of Senator Grover the attendance of Mosier is highly necessary. Every effort has been made by the committee to get him, but so far without avail. Nothing could tend more certainly than this fact to the confirmation of the inferences to be drawn from the testimony.

While it is true that this is not the first instance in the history of the election of senators in Oregon in which rumors of corruption have been rife, it is to be observed that this is the first time an effort has been made for an investigation. Talk again fills the air in regard to Mr. Mitchell's election and the manner of it, and a certain class of partisans grow indignant as they speak of the investigation of Senator Grover, while Senator Mitchell escapes it. But this committee is charged with the single duty of making inquiry into the case of Senator Grover, and it cannot take testimony in regard to the other senator, however widely it may be believed that there was corruption also in his election. Let us be no respecters of persons. Let us see an inquiry regarding Mr. Mitchell put on foot, if any one has distinct charges to make. There are those who profess to know enough. But this, for the present case, is neither defense nor exculpation. One wrong cannot be justified by pleading another. Attacks upon Mr. Mitchell's election will not vindicate Mr. Grover's, even though the manner of the latter were the less objectionable of the two. Each must answer for itself.

The fact is—and to make the lesson impressive, there is no better time than the present to say it—the election of senators latterly in Oregon and in other states has been open to suspicion of corruption to an extent that has become a national scandal. Notably on the last three occasions in this state it has been alleged that money was an influential agent in securing the result. In the case of Grover's election there was at the time as little talk as in any. But it so happens that in his case investigation has been reached. The effect will be useful and salutary. If it shall make the people more careful in selecting their representatives, and fill them with a stronger purpose to vote down, regardless of party, all who have not reputation for intelligent and conscientious integrity, it serve a most important purpose. Candidates for the legislature selected because of their easy virtue, to be controlled by a class of ambitious politicians, through the aid of those carrion vultures known as legislative brokers, are an abomination which should be relentlessly put down. No time could be better than the present to consider this subject. The occasion should add immense force to the lesson.

SCHOOL FUND LOANS.

It is stated the board of commissioners contracted for the collection of sums due the school fund at five per cent. Mr. Gilfry says that Judge Bonham is the principal, and that he is associated with him in the business. He further states that the sums they have to collect are all small, and mentions several in which the fee will not be equal to the twenty-five dollars, which the district attorney would receive. All the parties concerned claim that this proceeding is a very fair one. So far it may be. But it establishes an erroneous precedent. In principal it is not right to contract with individuals in this way to do service which an official is already employed to do. In the end it will cost the state far more than the other way. For the school fund is not all loaned out in these small sums. Gov. Chadwick, in his testimony here the other day, said that fifteen hundred dollars was not more than an average loan, and many were much greater. No reason is apparent why special contracts should be made for any of these cases. It is a vicious principle, and opens a way for jobs and favoritism. It is no sufficient answer to say that these loans were made by Republican officials, and that the security is inadequate. It is well known that too much of this sort of thing has been done by both parties. There has been quite enough of effort to justify the action of one set of officials by the conduct of another set, and it isn't satisfactory to the people at all. The numerous payments made to Mr. Gilfry during several years out of the school fund and divers other funds for "services" of one sort or another have obtained for him an invidious distinction; so that when it is understood he is having a further hand in these matters the fact attracts attention.

ENGLISH ACTION.

England has everything in readiness for the embarkation of troops for Egypt. It is her purpose to hold and protect the gateway to the east. A fleet of observation has already been dispatched to Besika bay, near the entrance of the Dardanelles. These movements do not mean interposition in behalf of Turkey, for the present time at least. But while Britain is holding the Suez canal and protecting the route to India, it is her purpose also to be on the ground to anticipate Russia in occupation of Constantinople, in case the fortunes of war shall turn against the Turks. Though Egypt is tributary to the Ottoman empire, its relations with the Porte are of a rather indefinite character, and it is virtually mortgaged to England for money advanced by the latter. It has even been declared that the British government will not permit Egypt to assist Turkey in the present war to an extent that might impair ability of the Khedive's government to pay it owes to England. Should Russia attack on Egypt as part of the do- Porte, England would become of Turkey for the purpose of protecting English interests. If Great Britain is viewing these possible complications solely from her own standpoint and with an eye to her own advantage, it is only what any intelligent nation would do, whose interests are so large and so extended as hers.

Alexander saw that this route through Egypt was the key of the Orient. The growth of the city he founded there, and the immense influence it so long exercised in the commercial and intellectual development of Europe, justified his sagacity. The expedition of Napoleon to Egypt was not the mad freak of a dreaming adventurer, it was the attempt of one who had a comprehension of the immense importance of the position, both in its military and commercial bearings. Foiled at Acre, his purposes failed; but even at St. Helena he reverted to his early plans in regard to the Orient, and spoke of Sidney Smith who defended Acre against his impetuous and continued assaults as the man who had made him miss his destiny. England now has a hold upon this gateway of the passage between the west and the east which she will never relinquish, and as she is sending fleets and armies there it may be accepted as certain that she will decide that her interests demand continued occupation.

VERY SENSIBLE.

The outbreak in Idaho has reopened the everlasting discussion of the Indian question. In all that has been printed we have seen nothing more sensible than the annexed extract from the New York Herald:

The way to prevent Indian massacres is very simple and quite within the power of any government which will adopt and enforce a rational policy in dealing with the Indian savage. The basis of such a policy should rest on the conviction that the Indian is treacherous and bloodthirsty, and that, like all other dangerous animals, he should be put under restraint. Deprive the Indian of his arms, and he becomes as docile as a city rowdy who has lost his derringer. A general system of disarmament, stringently enforced, is the only guarantee for the people of the frontier settlements against these periodical massacres. So long as the Indian is encouraged to be a warrior and is supplied with arms by a stupidly paternal government we may expect to hear from time to time of just such outrages as are now staining the fields of Idaho with innocent blood.

Members of the Louisiana returning board are to undergo prosecution for having made false returns, as alleged, in the matter of presidential electors. If Gov. Grover and Secretary Chadwick of Oregon were in Louisiana they might be joined with the parties defendant. For they certified the election of a person to this same office who was never elected at all. So flagrant a violation of right was it, that not a single member of their own party on the electoral commission would vote to sustain it.

It is now believed that the damage to growing grain has been quite small. Fields in Yamhill county, the Reporter states, are injured very little. That paper says, as result of pretty extensive inquiry, that it has found only one or two farmers whose crops have suffered, and these have not been damaged to any considerable extent. A letter from Linn informs us that the injury there is very slight. The little grain that was thrown down straightens up as the sun reaches it.

SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 7.

CITY.

HEAVY PENALTY.—During the recent high water on the upper Willamette, the flat-boat of a well known resident of Albany, broke from its moorings, and was carried some distance down on the current. After considerable difficulty, the gentleman recovered his property. In order to get the craft back to the bank, which proved a slow and difficult matter, it was necessary to tow her along close to the shore. Some little distance below Albany is a wing dam which has been constructed this season. At that point the channel is narrow, and the current very swift. When the boat got there, in order to avoid trouble, the owner thought he would cut a passage through a portion of the wing dam, and could then easily pass the point. Fortunately, several persons were engaged in finishing up some of the completed portions of the dam; and just as the owner of the boat was about to begin operations in a way, he was prevented from so doing. The owner got very angry and insisted upon his right to tear away a part of the improvement. However, he desisted when the men told him that it would prove a very costly experiment. He managed to get his scow over the rock through the regular channel. We merely mention this circumstance to illustrate the feeling of some people with regard to the laws of the United States. Congress has passed laws for the protection and preservation of the navigable works, and established a heavy penalty for injuring the same. We quote from the act approved August 14th, 1876: "That if any person who shall wilfully and maliciously injure any pier, breakwater, or other work of the United States for the improvement of rivers or harbors, or navigation in the waters of the United States, shall, on conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars."

NOTE FROM MR. HATCH.—We are in receipt of the following note from Mr. P. P. Hatch, of Oregon City: "I would say, in regard to the boat race which was to have come off on the 4th, that I received a message from Mr. [illegible] about 10 o'clock on that day, stating that he could not come. He does not give any reason for 'taking water' the way he did. I would like to have the public know that I am straight of it. I was on the river all the time with my boat, ready to pull him or any other man; and as no one put in an appearance, I rowed over the course alone. There were about five or six hundred people on the bank of the river to be disappointed, and I am very sorry that some one did not come and get away with the race."

SUCH CHERRIES.—J. B. Congle, Esq., has brought to this office a most magnificent cluster of cherries. There are over 30 of the plump and delicious cherries on one twig, not more than 18 inches in length. This is quite sufficient to make one's mouth water just to look at the tempting cluster of the luscious fruit. Mr. Congle has three large cherry trees in his yard which are burdened to the point of breaking with their luscious load. These three trees will bear nearly six thousand pounds of fruit in the aggregate. Who can beat it?

SENATOR HORTON'S VISIT TO HASSALO LODGE.

In accordance with the announcement made in yesterday's papers, Senator O. P. Horton, Past Grand Master of Grand Lodge of Oregon, last evening paid a fraternal visit to Hassalo Lodge No. 15, I. O. O. F. The hall was crowded with the members of the order from this and neighboring cities, all expressing a great desire to meet the distinguished visitor.

After the formal introductory ceremonies attendant on a visit, and conducted by Grand Marshal G. Walling, P. G. M. Morton was saluted as Past Grand Master J. N. Dolph in an eloquent and cordial speech in which he referred in eulogistic terms to the intelligent and patriotic services of the order and the high rank he had attained in it, and then introduced P. G. M. Morton to the assembled brothers. Following this came a magnificent tribute to Odd Fellowship from P. G. M. Morton, who confined himself to the workings and efficiency of the order and his relationship therewith, and who earnestly appealed to the assembled brothers to live always in full accord with the noble principles which govern them in the lodge room, and to demonstrate fully by their conduct that such would, if practically applied, tend to a promotion of good will and happiness among men. After this address, which was listened to with close and respectful attention, P. G. M. Morton thanked the members heartily for the cordial reception and retired.

The occasion was one of great interest to the Odd Fellows assembled, and will long remain a pleasant memory with those who were present.

AMUSEMENTS.

NEW MARKET THEATER.—A fashionable assemblage greeted the second performance of "M'liss" (a dramatization of one of Bret Harte's sketches) last night. The plot is brief.—"M'liss"—Miss Katy May new—is a waif at Red mountain, despised by all the other children of the place as she is "old Smith's" daughter. She is left to grow a "weed apace," associating with the roughs who frequent "Smith's Pocket," a drinking saloon and to meet the stage coach every day at some distance, and drive in to Red mountain on the box seat with "Yuba Bill" who takes a paternal interest in her and proud of her accomplishments in handling the reins or playing a game of "Casino." The opening of the play is a Redtoter day at Smith's Pocket, as the school term just closes and Clytie Morphie stands at the head of the whole school. The teacher, Mr. Gay, is justly proud of Clytie and congratulates her on the success of the recent examination. Now this Mr Gray, with the exception of Yuba Bill, is the only one at the camp who seems to speak a kind word to M'liss, in fact, as she says herself, everybody hates her, for she is old bummer Smith's daughter, and the little girl reciprocates this kindness with a heartfelt affection for the schoolmaster, and is of course jealous of all etiquette of his on Clytie. This leads to a public examination of both by the squire in presence of a gang of miners for which Yuba Bill declares M'liss is "boss" of the whole school. However, M'liss' answers are not entirely orthodox, and gives the teacher some displeasure, and requests M'liss to wait for him, while he conveys Clytie towards her home. This marked preference for Clytie by Gray, determines M'liss to leave Smith's Pocket, with a traveling variety troupe who are on the eve of departure. However Gray just returns in time to prevent her going away. Meantime old Bummer Smith becomes as once the possessor of a bonanza in the shape of a rich strike in his claim, and inheritor of valuable real estate in New York City, through the death of a brother, and in one of his half sober spells he realizes to some extent that the little waif Lissy ought to be looked after by some reliable and trustworthy person, and for this he selects Gray, the teacher, as the most competent for the task. The old fellow also has a presentiment of death which causes him to will half the property to the school teacher in accepting the guardianship of M'liss. Now one Walters, knowing of the richness of Smith's claim, and also of the property bequeathed in New York, determines to take possession of the same, to accomplish which he murders Smith, has the schoolmaster accused for the crime, and introduces a female accomplice as the wife of Smith who had just arrived at the camp after an absence of many years from her husband. Smith She claims M'liss as her daughter, which, however, M'liss repudiates. Meantime the schoolmaster is tried for the murder, and to make more sure of his destruction by false representations, Walters incites the miners to lynch him during the night. This is happily prevented by M'liss and Yuba Bill, who help him to escape, just as the log cabin in which he was confined is set fire to. We next find Walters and Mrs. Smith at home in a Fifth avenue mansion, in New York, M'liss is grown up an elegant and accomplished lady. A great fete is being given by Walters, but somehow both Gray and Yuba Bill manage to be present. Bill wearing a mask and Gray disguised as an elderly gentleman. Walters and Mrs. Smith are enjoying to the fullest extent the luxuriance afforded them by their ill gotten wealth, but a train is laid for them; their guilt is fully detected; Walters is arrested for the murder of Smith; Mrs. Smith, the adventuress, is advised to seek seclusion, and all ends in a happy denouement. Miss Maybew, in the character of M'liss, has earned new laurels. Her school-girl jealousy of Clytie; the love with which she tends and endeavors to reclaim her drunken father; the childish heart burnings and shame which oppress her when alone, being a kind of "nobody's child;" her firmness in trial—all combined to give a picture of light and shade seldom witnessed on the dramatic stage. Mr. Horne, as "Yuba Bill," was simply immense. His performance of the jolly, good natured stage driver was most artistic, as is everything he undertakes, for that's "the darned kind of a fool he is." John Maguire, as Charles Gray, the schoolmaster, looked and acted the character exceedingly well. The part of the judge was funny in Brown's hands. Mrs. Bush played the unthankful part of Mrs. Smith, while the minor parts were very acceptably cast and played. The piece was put on in excellent style, particularly the view of "Smith's Pocket," with the hotel, express and stage office. The play abounds in thrilling situations, and altogether is a most decided success. There will be a matinee at 2 P. M. to-day, and this evening the last performance of M'liss.

BRIEF NOTES.

Matinee.

Motion day.

Large mail per steamer.

Circus time has arrived.

Mercury is on the strike.

More troops going forward.

Peg one more for the red devils.

Exodus to the seaside has began.

Steamer Ajax arrived at 8 last evening.

The City Market building is again closed.

Good weather for beer and the street sprinkler.

Al. Raleigh is now purser on the City of Salem.

Lunch counters are not as thrifty as they used to be.

Fast driving on the principal streets should be stopped.

The custom house block smells very much like a hay field.

We understand that Manager Bert has taken a lease of Oro Fino Theater.

S. G. Reed, Esq., has forwarded 30 head of horses to his ranch on the Columbia river.

This afternoon at 1 o'clock the sale of Bonanza stock will take place at the office of the secretary.

Hon. Stephen Smith, of Clackamas, is among the latest summoned before the investigation committee.

Healthy-looking men occupy the Stark street ferry waiting seat to the exclusion of ladies. They should be more polite.

Last evening the congressional party occupied private boxes at New Market Theater. The boxes were very neatly decorated with the national colors.

Barnard & Lee continue to pack and ship wool at Pacific wharf. The operation of baling is rapid and economical. Instead of riveting the baling iron it is clasped and held firm.

INSTALLATION AND ELECTION.

Thos. H. Crawford, D. D. G. M. of the R. W. G. L., visited Samaritan Lodge No. 2, I. O. O. F. of this city, last Wednesday evening, and installed the following officers: C. R. Hoffman, N. PERSONAL.

J. B. Montgomery and Jacob Kamm and wife were at Hot Springs, Ark., on the 6th ult. The latter was to go to the sea shore this month. His health was improved.

From the Sentinel we learn that Rev. Father J. Giorda, S. J., recently superior general of the Rocky mountain Indian missions, arrived in this city on Tuesday evening last, from Colville. Rev. J. M. Cataldo, S. J. of St Joseph's mission among the Nez Perces, has been appointed superior general of the Indian missions of the Rocky mountains, to replace Rev J. Giorda, S. J., appointed to the Cour d'Alene mission in the northern part of Idaho territory. Father Cataldo's health being impaired he left on the steamer Thursday morning for San Francisco.

Ladies' chemise, skirts, drawers, nightgowns, &c., in endless variety at J. Harris & Son's Emporium of Fashion.

CLOSED ONE OFFICE.—Dr. Paul M. Brenan, on account of the increased business at his office, corner Washington and Front, has closed his office at the Clarendon hotel, and will now devote his whole time to his profession at the former place.

Ladies desiring to obtain Madam Gillison's celebrated charts with full instructions in cutting dresses, polanais basques and all kinds of ladies and children's clothing, can do so by calling third door from Fourth on Yamhill.

You can tell a lady across the street who wears Dr. Warner's Health Corset by the elegance of her form and sprightly step. Depot, Third street, near Morrison, Portland, Oregon.

Dr. E. A. Jones, rooms 1 and 3, second floor Strowbridge building, First and Alder streets. The doctor occupies room No. 13 at night. Calls promptly attended day or night. Having made the diseases of women and children a specialty, I am prepared to treat all such cases.

Croquet, picnics and base ball have been suspended for some days past owing to the rains and other causes; but showers do not interfere in the least with the rush to Beck & Waldman's for those summer suits. Go and see about it.

The Grover investigation will attract great attention this week—ditto Barnes' lunches.

ASTORIA.

HOW THE FOURTH WAS OBSERVED THERE—AN INCIPIENT RIOT PROMPTLY QUELLED.

A correspondent writing from Astoria under date of July 4th, sends the following:

The 101st anniversary of American independence has been a lively one for the city of Astoria. The long anticipated evening of the 3d came, and with it began the celebration in this city by the grand ball given under the auspices of Rescue Engine Co. No. 2, in Mr. John Jack's theater. Before old Sol had quit sending up his golden rays from behind the mountains across the bay, the elite and fashion of the city could be seen making their way down the crowded streets toward the hall. By 7 o'clock at least 200 couple were whirling away the hours in the mazy dance. Until 1 o'clock on the Fourth the festivities were uninterrupted, when three times three were given for Rescue Co. No. 2, and Astoria's grandest ball was ended. Just at this moment the big 15 inch guns at Fort Canby, eight miles away, sent reverberating echoes over mountain and bay. The vessels in the bay were profusely decorated. Almost every house in the city had some kind of bunting flung to the breeze, and well might it be said that every nation was represented in the little city of Astoria. Your correspondent counted no less than 16 flags of different nations floating in the breeze. The morning opening bright and clear, a pleasant day was insured. At 10 o'clock the tug Gen. Canby with an excursion party on board and Capt. West Whitcomb at the wheel, left for Fort Canby to be gone all day. At 10:30 the crowd could be seen moving down toward the theater where the exercises of the day were to be held. At 11 o'clock, the building being packed and crowded to overflowing, the exercises were commenced by prayer by the Rev. Highland. Mr. John Gearheart was then introduced and read the Declaration in a clear and distinct manner, when Mr. John Jack, the orator of the day, stepped forward amid deafening and prolonged applause, and for the space of 30 minutes held his hearers spellbound as it were, with his flow of eloquence. The "Star Spangled Banner" was then sung by Miss Firman and troupe, and the assemblage dismissed. From that time until about half-past 5 o'clock the streets were crowded with people, but all quiet, when the startling cry came from a man running down the roadway,

"A RIOT, A RIOT."

Your correspondent hastened with all dispatch up the roadway, and upon arriving opposite the O. S. N. Co's dock saw officers Fancy and Steen, of the regular force, in the center of a struggling mass of humanity of all nations, striking right and left with their clubs, and men falling at every blow. It seems the origin of the riot was the arrest of two Italians, for fighting, when the officers were rushed upon by about twenty, which increased in less than five minutes to 500, and they were forced to release their prisoners to defend their own lives. Chief Ross and officers Lowery and Barry came running up at this moment and gaining the center of the mob, soon learned the cause and gave chase for the prisoners, who had made their escape in the melee. There were at least by this time 1,000 men at the scene of the disturbance, and the roadway from O'Brien's hotel for ten blocks back was a struggling mass of humanity. Chief Ross and officers Fancy and Steen overtook their men just as they were entering Hanson's boarding house, and started to return with them. The mob concentrated around O'Brien's hotel, and when the officers got opposite with their prisoners, the mob, about 50 strong, with a yell like a band of Indians, made a rush for them, and upon Chief Ross seemed to be the concentrating point. That officer was beset by about twenty frantic Swedes and Italians and Irish, and he fought desperately with pistol and billon, but was at length compelled to call the citizens to his assistance, not however, until he had laid out half a dozen. The scene at this moment beggared description. By the officers' prompt action, and a posse of armed citizens, some half a dozen of the leaders were arrested and a line of march taken up for the city jail, with two thousand men stringing behind like men bereft of reason. The jail being at length reached, the birds were caged and the officers commenced going through the crowd grabbing participants until 16 were caged. Eight more arrests were made from that time up to 9 o'clock, making a total of 24. Great credit is due Chief Ross and his officers for their prompt and fearless action. It had been known that this thing was brewing, and it was nipped in the bud. The city jail is now being guarded with 12 armed men, and six extra men on the force; and so ends the eventful Fourth in Astoria.

A Graceful Tribute from Mme. Annette Essipoff.

NEW YORK, May 16th, 1877.

Messrs. Steinway & Sons, New York—GENTLEMEN: Intending to sail for Europe next Wednesday, permit me to tender you my sincerest thanks for the many courtesies extended to me during my concert tour through the United States and Canada for the past six months.

I also take this opportunity to express to you the great pleasure and gratification I have enjoyed from the use—both in public and in private—of your really matchless pianos, with which I am more in love than ever.

Component parts of tone are clearly and distinctly perceptible to sensitive and cultivated ears, and I frequently detect impure mixtures in what is designated as a "sympathetic" tone in the pianos of other makers.

The wonderful beauty and sympathetic tone quality of the Steinway piano, so delightful and, so to say, satiating to the sense of hearing, arises from the perfect purity of its component parts; hence its richness, its gem-like sparkle and brilliancy, which, together with the greatest possible volume, depth, sonority and unequaled singing and carrying quality to a distance, render—to my taste—the Steinway tone the very essence of poetry.

The action is perfection itself, responding with equal promptitude to the most delicate or powerful touch, and under the severest trials its wonderful precision, elasticity and power remain unchanged, enabling the boundless resources of the Steinway piano to be fully unlocked, according to the inspiration of the artist.

No other European or American pianos known to me possess such extraordinary durability under the severest usage, nor combine all excellencies to such a high degree as yours, and in them I have found my ideal instrument.

I cannot conclude without referring to your tone-sustaining pedal, a highly valuable addition, greatly extending the capacity of the piano for the production of new and charming effects, which it has afforded me great pleasure to introduce in various compositions—both classical and modern.

Wishing you every possible success, I remain, most sincerely yours,

ANNETTE ESSIPOFF.

EUGENE ITEMS.

Our regular correspondent sends the following under date of July 6th:

Fully 6,000 people participated in our Fourth.

Sloan Bros. are building a new pair of trucks for E. J. McClahad.

Miss Mary Stone has resigned her position in the state university.

Farmers report considerable damage to the wheat crop by the late rains.

Mr. C. W. Fitch was elected foreman, and B. F. Dorris vice president of E. H. & L. Co. at the last meeting.

The contract for building the new school house was let Monday, the Campbell Bros. having the lowest bid, viz: $10,350.

Gov. Chadwick and Judge Deady came up on last Tuesday's train to attend the meeting of the board of regents of the State University.

An appropriation for a nine thousand dollar bridge, to be built at Spores's ferry on the Mckenzie, was made by the county court yesterday.

Mr. F. Dudley was elected janitor of the State University for the ensuing year by the executive committee of the board of regents on last Thursday.

Judge Deady delivered a very interesting and instructive lecture before the Laurean and Eutaxian literary societies on last Tuesday evening at the brick church.

A. S. Miller & Son will soon commence the erection of the coast fork bridge. It will have one span of 200 feet and several smaller ones. The bridge will be completed by the 1st of September.

The public examination of Mrs. Spiller's elocution class on last Friday evening was very creditable, both to the teacher and pupils. The State University can certainly boast of having one of the finest teachers in elocution in the State.

July 4th at Eugene was ushered in cloudy, but before 9 o'clock the sun shone out bright. The rains of the past few days were just sufficient to allay the dust without making it wet under foot. At 10 o'clock the procession formed on the court house square, and headed by two brass bands marched to the grounds. After reaching the stand a prayer was offered by Rev. E. K. Geary, and the Declaration read by Dr. J. P. Gill. The oration, by Hon. Sol. C. Blampon, was a masterly affair as a literary effort, and a pleasing address and good delivery added to the effect produced on the audience by his well rounded periods. After dinner a match game of base ball between a picked nine and the University Club attracted a couple of thousand spectators. The game was close and well contested, the score standing 19 to 9 in favor of the picked nine. One hour and forty minutes was taken in playing the game. At 4 o'clock the boys of Malta and their guests turned out in full force. The declaration, read by T. C. Judkins, was the first thing of the performance. The burlesquing of the Goddess of Liberty and the Lady and Gentleman of the Period, were also good, as were Hon. Ben. Buster's speeches of the day for the Maltas. The day's entertainment was concluded by a display of fireworks in the evening. It was a noticeable fact that not a single person was seen on the streets intoxicated, and that not an accident of any kind happened.

The American People.

No people in the world suffer as much with Dyspepsia as Americans. Although years of experience in medicine had failed to accomplish a certain and sure remedy for this disease and its effects, such as Sour Stomach, Heart-burn, Waterbrash, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Liver Complaint, coming up of the food, low spirits, general debility, &c., yet since the introduction of GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER we believe there is no case of Dyspepsia that cannot be immediately relieved. 30,000 dozen sold last year without one case of failure reported. Go to your Druggist and get a Sample Bottle for 10 cents and try it. Two doses will relieve you. Regular Size 75 cents. Agents, Crane & Brigham, Wholesale Druggists, San Francisco.

SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 7, 1877.

THE GROVER INVESTIGATION.

Q—You proposed to run a straight Republican ticket? A Yes, sir.

Q—And if you would do so you would possibly have relief? A Not possibly, but it was held out that that was the proposition. No probability about it, but a staight proposition.

Q—No proposition of that kind made by Chadwick? A No, sir.

Q—Nor by Grover? A No, sir.

Q—No proposition of that kind made by any Democrat? A No, sir.

Chairman—The only proposition made to you was through Mr. Caton? A Yes, sir.

Mr. Chadwick was recalled and testified that the above witness was misinformed in reference to the scheme by which Jackson county was to go for Grover. As far as he was concerned he had never given anybody authority to make such a proposition as Danforth testified that Caton made. He further explained why the delay in the matter of the collection of the Dowell-May judgment; that Mr. Dowell was an old Oregonian and witness knew it would break him up to enforce the collection; wanted to give him time to sell cattle he had on hand, etc.

Fourth Day.

Present as before.

WM. MILLER

Was called, and, in answer to interrogations by Senator Morton, testified that he resided in Yakima W. T.; knows S. W. Butler; Butler resides in Tygh valley, Wasco county, Oregon; don't know where he is now; before he went to the legislature he was in moderate circumstances; can't say that he had any money; had a stock ranch; he bought a steam saw mill in Tygh valley; I suppose he paid about $3,000; don't know whether he paid the money down; he bought it last winter some time; he and one of the county commissioners bought it together he had been considered in embarrassed circumstances a year or so before he went to the legislature, but for a year had not known much about him; he had a nice farm.

Q—I'll ask you if that purchase under the circumstances did not excite some surprise; was it a subject of remark? Yes, sir.

The chairman said that several witnesses regarded as important had not been found, and he could not say whether they would be found or not, and the committee adjourned till 2 P. M.

Afternoon Session.

WM. J. M'CONNELL,

Being duly sworn, testified as follows:

By the Chairman—Where do you reside? A In North Yamhill; business, general merchandise; am acquainted with Mr. Wilson, of Tillamook; had business transactions with him.

Q—Do you know what his circumstances were in a pecuniary way? A At times he was short of money, like most Oregonians. He owed one Aaron Paine, of whom he bought a farm; saw him soon after his return from the legislature; I think it was in October. He came to my place on his return from the legislature to pay a small amount of money that he owed there, and some three or four weeks after he came to pay one of the notes which he owed Mr. Paine, at my place.

Q—What was the amount of it? A I could not state; it must have been between $300 and $500.

Q—Do you know of any other debts being paid by him about this time? A No, sir, I do not.

Q—What was the amount of the debt he paid on the first return? A The debt he paid to me?

Q—Yes, sir. A It was a small amount, not more than $15 or $30.

Q—Did you see any money that he had in his possession. A I don't remember.

Q—At the time he paid this debt to Mr. Paine—you say it was an amount of $500? A I don't remember; it was such a common occurrence.

Q—You say he had more money besides that he paid to Paine? A I don't remember whether he had or not.

Q—Did you have any talk with him at that time in regard to his course in the legislature? A I did not.

Q—Were there any rumors prevailing there at that time as to what he had done with reference to the senatorial election? A Yes.

Q Did he say anything with reference to those rumors? A I didn't hear him say a word.

Q—How far is the town where you live to his residence? A I think it about 10 miles.

Q—Do you know of any one telling him on that occasion, or any other, of certain charges against him in reference to the senatorial election? A A gentleman told me that he had—

Q—If you were not present— A I was not present when any charges were made against Mr. Wilson. I know nothing of any charges ever having been made to him to my personal knowledge.

Q—Do you know how much land he had? A I don't know the number of acres.

Q—Do you know whether that payment to Paine completed the payment for his lands? A It did not.

Q—Or you did not know, which? A I know that it did not.

Q—How much was behind hand? A There was another not secured by mortgage, which amounted to nearly a thousand dollars, which was not due.

Q—Given to private persons, or to the state? A To this Mr. Paine.

Q—Do you know whether that mortgage covered this entire real estate, or only part of it? A I don't know; it covered part of it—lands bought of Paine; don't know whether he owned any other land or not.

By Senator Saulsbury: Q—Did you notice the amount of money paid to Paine at that time? A I noticed perhaps at the time.

Q—How do you ascertain the amount of the note? A From a general idea of the amount of money that was paid.

Q—Was it paid in coin? A Yes, paid in coin.

Q—You formed the conclusion that that was the amount due? A I counted the money myself; but I don't remember; I have an idea of the size of the amount of money, as it was on my desk.

Q—Did you know where that money came from? A I did not, sir.

Q—Were you familiar with all the modes by which Mr. Wilson obtained money? A I was not.

Q—Do you know anything of the standing of Wilson in the county where he lives? A Mr. Wilson was a very nice gentleman.

Q—You regarded him as a man of integrity of character? A I did.

Q—Is that the estimate his neighbors and friends put upon him as far as you know? A I think it was, up to the time of the legislature, some insignificant afterwards.

Q—Was the county in which he resided Democratic or Republican? A I think they could have elected a Republican to the legislature had not certain things been as they were.

Q—Wilson was elected on a Democratic ticket in a Republican district composed of two counties? A The ticket was considered an Independent ticket.

Q—Was not he nominated by the Democratic party? A I think he was.

Chairman—The senator asked you in regard to the general standing of Mr. Wilson. You say it had been good up to the time of the meeting of the legislature, and then there were some insinuations made. I will ask you what they were and what the report at that time was? A Well, Mr. Wilson got the support of a large number of Republicans with the understanding that he would support Mr. Nesmith; and when he came home they were dissatisfied with his course in the legislature, and many expressed themselves to me that way and spoke rather bad.

Q—Were these charges made in regard to corruption by money? A Yes.

Q—In what way were they? A Men told me that there was money used to influence Mr. Wilson. No one ever told me they knew it to be a fact.

Saulsbury—Yet any Republicans who voted for him were dissatisfied because he did not vote for Mr. Nesmith? A Yes, sir. I don't think I talked with Democrats about it.

Q—The complaint was from Republicans? A Yes sir, I think so. Democrats did not usually come to me with their complaints.

By Chairman—Was Wilson elected as a Democrat or Independent? A I could hardly answer that question.

Q—I am speaking now of common report; the senator has asked you about his political standing? A So far as the matter was talked to me, it was as an Independent.

Q—Was he elected as you understood upon the pledge that he would support Col. Nesmith? A Yes, sir.

Q—And it was complained that he had violated this pledge? A That was the complaint to me.

Q—The charge in connection with it was that it was for money? A No one ever told me that Wilson received money, but they thought money had been used; conversations were related to me which had taken place, in which they said money had been used.

By Senator Saulsbury—He was nominated as you understand upon a regular Democratic ticket? A I think so.

Q—Was there not a Republican in opposition to him in that district? A There was.

Q—By Senator McMillan—That was a Republican district? A It was.

Q—He was elected, was he? A Yes, sir.

Q—Then he got Republican votes to elect him? A There was, what was called a job, perhaps you know what it is yourself; men put on the Republican ticket who were not satisfactory. They made a compromise with him, that if he would do such and such things, they would vote for him, which they did, and elect him.

Q—What were the things he was to do? A He was to vote for Nesmith.

By Chairman—He got his election on that ground? A Yes, sir.

Q—Upon the ground that he would vote for Nesmith? A Yes, sir.

JOSEPH TAYLOR

Being duly sworn, testified as follows:

Q—Where do you live? A In Portland.

Q—How long have you lived here? A since 1854.

Q Were you living in this town at the time of the last meeting of the legislature? A I was.

Q—Were you acquainted with a member of that body by the name of Wilson, of Tillamook? A Not acquainted with him.

Q—Did he come to your place of business? A Yes, sir.

Q—What is your occupation? A Got a billiard saloon.

Q—State what passed between you and Mr. Wilson, if anything, on the occasion of his visit to your saloon? A He came there several times to drink, with a man named VanCleave once, then with a man named Tom Patterson; every time he came he threw out a twenty dollar gold piece and got the change in silver, that is what drew my attention.

Q—Did he drink and pay for it in that way? A Paid in twenty dollar gold pieces.

Q—How often did he do that? A I suppose he must have done that four or five times in one day. Took all the silver I had in the safe, and the bartender called me in every time to get change.

Q—Did you have any other transaction with him besides that? A Yes, sir.

Q—What was it? A He bought a dog of me.

Q—State the negotiations in regard to the dog. A He came in with Tom Patterson, and saw my dog sitting there and wanted to know if I wanted to sell it. I told him no. He said, 'What will you take for the dog?' I said I did not want to sell. I said to him, "You don't want him." He said, "How do you know?" I said, "I don't think you would pay what I ask." He said, "What will you take?" I said, "What will you give?" I just thought he was fooling. He said, "I will give you twenty five dollars." I said, "You can have it." At this time this one arm Brown came in, and some men standing at the other end of the bar said, "they thought the man had seen Goldsmith." I asked Brown his name. He said it was Wilson, from Tillamook. He paid me $25 and got the dog.

Q—Did you see any money? A Yes, sir; had a sack of about $700 or $800.

Q—In coin? A Gold coin; he had two sacks, one to put silver change in; some one said silver was scarce up in Tillamook, and he said it was.

Q—Did he come to your saloon afterwards? A Yes, sir; twice next day.

Q—Did he again present gold coin for change? A I don't think he did.

Q—When he paid you for the dog, did he give you twenty dollar gold pieces and get silver in return? A He gave me $20 in gold and $5 in silver.

Q—Was this remark in regard to Goldsmith made in his hearing? A I guess it might; he was there at the end of the counter.

Q—When he said he got the money easy, did you ask any questions how it came? A I did not.

Q—About how long was that after the senatorial election? A I could not say; it might have been a month after the election.

Q—After the adjournment, or before? A It was after the adjournment of the legislature; I think they had been home and come back.

By Senator Saulsbury—How often was Mr. Wilson in your saloon? A Two day he got struck after the day he was there four or five times.

Q—Who was present on this occasion? A A man by the name of Brown was one, Tom Patterson was another and old VanCleave was another.

Q—What time in the fall was this? A After I came down from the fair.

Q—What time was the fair? A I think in October.

Q—You say you changed some money for him? A I changed about six $.0 gold pieces.

Q—How do you know it was Mr. Wilson? A At the time these visits were made. I asked this man Brown who he was, and he told me it was Wilson, of Tillamook.

Q—Had you ever seen him before? A Had seen him twice before that, and that was the reason I wanted to know.

Q—What kind of a looking man was he? A Oldish man, gray hair, mixed, not very tall, very slim.

MR. BROWN RECALLED.

The Chairman—Do you remember of being in the saloon when Wilson was there? A Yes, sir, and Taylor asked me who he was.

Q—Did you go out and leave him there? A Yes, sir.

Q—Did you see him there before or since? A No, sir; I have drank with him at the Cosmopolitan since.

Q—This man that Mr. Taylor asked about was Mr. Wilson of Tillamook? A Yes, sir.

Q—No mistake about that? A No, sir.

J. V. IRVIN

Being duly sworn, testified as follows:

By chairman—Where do you live? A Scio.

Q—Do you know a gentleman by the name of Goldsmith? I do.

Q—In this town? A Yes, sir; several of them.

Q—The one that had some connection with the Oregon locks? A B. Goldsmith.

Q—I will ask you if you know about his arriving at salem from Portland on the evening before the senatorial election? A I came down from salem on the evening previous to the election, and I met him in East Portland, and he went to Salem that evening on the evening train.

Q—Did he just arrive? A He had just crossed the river here and was going up on the evening express train; I was just coming down.

Q—He was going back? A He was going up to Salem.

Q—Did he have anything in his hand? A Had a valise in his hand; it was probably ten or twelve inches long.

Q—Did you hear anything said by him or anybody as to the contents of that valise; what was said in regard to the valise, if your attention was directed to it? A My attention was directed to the valise; that there was money in it.

Q—Was it heavy? A It appeared to be heavy. What directed your attention to the valise? A I thought Mr. Goldsmith was going to Salem, is what directed my attention to it particularly, and that he had money in the valise.

Q—What led you to think it was heavy, the way he carried it? A Yes, sir; it swung heavy.

Q—Was this remark made by any gentlemen in his hearing? A No, sir; it was after we passed Mr. Goldsmith.

Q—The carrying of this valise attracted your attention? A Yes, sir.

Q—The first thing that led you to think so was his going to salem? A Yes, s r.

Q—Up to that time had there been rumors in circulation about his connection with the election?

A I had not heard anything before that time.

Q—Did you hear it afterwards? A Yes, sir; I went to Salem next morning.

Q—Did you see Mr. Goldsmith next day? A I did.

Q—Have any conversation with him? A I had, not about the Senatorial election.

Q—Did you see his valise again? A I don't think I did.

Q—Don't know whether it was in a collapsed condition next day? A No sir I do not.

By Senator McMillan—what time would the train leaving here, reach Salem, in which Goldsmith was going? A Seven o'clock in the evening, thereabouts.

By chairman—Do you know any circumstances or any facts indicating the use of money in the Senatorial election? A I know nothing except what I heard.

Q—Had you been here for several days previous to this? A I came from Salem two days before, and returned on this day, and went back next morning; I was there when all the ballots were cast but one.

Q—Were you acquainted with Mr. Mosier? A I am not.

Q—Did you see him there? A I saw him.

By Senator McMillan—What was the condition of the senatorial contest at the time you left Salem? A When I left Salem Mr. Grover had 43 or 44 votes, and it took 45 to elect. It was thought then, when I left, that he could not be elected.

Q—Who was the most prominent opposing candidate in the Democratic party: A Senator Nesmith, and Applegate, of the Republican party.

Q—Why did the opponents of Grover think he could not be elected? A Those men, the other Democrats said they would not vote for him. When I went back next morning I was told it was all changed.

By Chairman—Did you hear anything at that time about the use of money? A I did not.

By Mr. Saulsbury—You had never heard Mr. Goldsmith's name used up to that time in connection with the election? A Not till next morning. I met Mr. Johns and he said, "all is fixed up." Harney Goldsmith came up there with the coin last night, and the matter is fixed up. Then I made mention about the valise.

Q—That is the first connection by rumor between Mr. Johns and you about Mr. Goldsmith's connection with the use of money in that connection? A That is the first thing I heard.

Q—You reported to Mr. Johns your suspicions? A I reported to Mr. Johns my suspicions after Johns reported what he did.

By Chairman—Did he tell you what he knew of the use of that coin? A He did not.

Q—He said the thing had been fixed? A That's what he said.

Senator McMillan—understand you to say that he (Goldsmith) was a stockholder in some locks company? A Locks and dam twindle.

Q—That the term applied to the public improvements to the river? A Yes, sir.

WM. M'CONNELL, RECALLED.

By Chairman—This money that Mr. Wilson paid out, was your store after his return from the legislature, was that in gold coin? A It was; both payments he made in gold.

Q—Of what denomination? A In $20 gold pieces.

Adjourned to 10 o'clock A. M. to-day.

BUY A "PLUMMER"

FAMILY DRYER.

WE ARE NOW RECEIVING A LARGE NUMber of orders for these Dryers. We manufacture six different sizes of the Circular kind and two of the new Upright kind, patented Jan. 18, 1876. For $200 we guarantee to do one-fourth as much work as a 92,000 Alden Dryer; and for $500 we guarantee to do as much as any Alden Dryer in this State. We also guarantee to do as good work as the Alden, as our Fruit has been thoroughly tested and pronounced No. 1, selling readily in the market at as good figures as the Alden. Now, if you let your fruit rot this year it is your own fault, as the price is within the reach of all.

Send in your orders immediately, as the season is upon us, and we will soon have the golden harvest and rebuke this Alden monopoly, and my Dryers manufactured in your own State, where you can see the parties who manufacture them.

CITY.

CLACKAMAS PACKING COMPANY.—A sample can of fruit put up at the firm of Gen. A. L. Lovejoy, Oregon City, by the Clackamas Packing Company, has been left at this office. The selection of the fruit—canned cherries—is a good one in respect to richness and delicacy of flavor. The sample is not inferior to any fruit put up in the Eastern States or elsewhere. This company, we understand, has ample facilities for canning fruits of various kinds—cherries, peaches, plums pears, berries, vegetables, meats, etc. The work was organized and operations commenced last year, but notwithstanding the late inauguration of the enterprise, they are now able to supply the market for Oregon and the Northwest coast. Considerable quantities of this kind of fruit have already been shipped to San Francisco, and produced a very favorable impression in the market. The fruit is put up in cans, in splendid order, hermetically sealed, and will keep sweet and fresh for years. This enterprise is certainly deserving of success. Thousands of dollars are sent every year from the State for canned fruits and meats which could be kept here and put in the market. No State in the Union can produce finer fruit, vegetables and berries than Oregon. The process employed by the Clackamas Packing Co. in preparing fruit, vegetables and meats, is not inferior to that of any of the large canning establishments. Such useful and important enterprises should be patronized and encouraged. The company is prepared to fill all orders.

A NASTY HURT.—Saturday afternoon a little girl, one of the demi monde of the town, named Clara Olds, while going to the races, in company with several other "frail sisters," was thrown from a buggy and severely injured. She was driving a fractious animal, and in attempting to manage the horse let her foot slip out of the stirrup. This caused her to lose control of the animal, and finding that she would be thrown, attempted to leap to the ground. At the same instant the girl's horse swerved to one side and kicked her just as she reached the ground. The hoof struck the woman above one eye and laid it open almost to the bone for about an inch and a half. She was knocked senseless by the blow and it was some time before she was restored to consciousness. The wound was thought at first to be of a very serious nature, but an examination of the injury showed that they were slight. It was fortunate escape, and the young woman seems to feel thankful that she was not maimed or killed outright.

THE RACE.—The foot race which came off on the White House Saturday afternoon, was quite as attractive and exciting to the crowd as the trotting contest. The contestants were R. H. Thompson, James Day and Jos. Buchtel; distance 100 yards; first prize, medal and $25 in coin; second prize, $15. Jos. Buchtel was selected starter, and Jas. Bacon and George C. Sears, judges. The signal was given the three racers like a shot. Thompson led from the start, followed by Day, who in turn was closely pressed by Hamilton. Thompson disposed of his rivals by nearly five feet, winning the race and carrying off the medal and purse. Day came out next best, took the second prize. The time was 10½ seconds. Day was a favorite in the pools and Thompson second choice, and consequently a considerable amount of "cash" changed pockets over the result. This is probably not the end of the race, as we hear talk of the winner receiving a challenge from some parties who regard Day as fleet-footed, "for coin."

ARRIVAL.—The steamship Ajax, which left San Francisco for Portland on Saturday, brings the following passengers: C. Mendell, 3 children and nurse, M. Alexander, Thompson, Miss M. L. Powell, C. Rix, D. Mannegro, Mrs. A. L. Coffee, J. Mrs. Matthews, Mrs. E. J. Moore and child, M. Rox, A. M. Stow, David Stump, C. W. Holden, B. S. Holmes, H. M. Hall, R. J. Christie, T. Garsile, M. A. Lane, Harry Smith, Mrs. W. Glendie and daughter, Feldheimer, Miss M. Stump, F. L. Miss E. Taylor, R. W. Crane, T. Marsh, F. Merrick and child, Mrs. Dr. S. S. Lee, F. E. Corey, D. Irvin, J. Shaw, R. Mrs. Robert Bennett, J. Everett, F. Davis, J. H. Harpster, L. Newhouse, G. S. Mrs. McCown, Mrs. M. G. Lane, and family, A. Geisy, wife and four Mr. George Leslie, A. C. Nichols, Joseph Mrs. M. Bennett and son, H. C. Molnwife, Mrs. N. R. Ackerman and two Mrs. M. E. Oliver.

FOR THE PARADE.—Our merchants will turn out to-day by gentlemen in the band under the leadership of Gray, for subscriptions to remuand for services on the Plaza, the subscriptions foot up large enough band will play" every Saturday evening, probably twice a week. As the sum reis not very great, a small amount from each, payable weekly or monthly, is all necessary to guarantee one or more a week. The members of the band receive pay for the time and it requires not time consumed at the concerts but duration necessary in order to give opportunity to produce something new the concert. Let us have music by all

FROM "JOKE."—In the San Francisco of a late date, we observe the following paragraph: "Charles Sutton (of Maguire's band troupe) while out hunting in the of the Santiam, Oregon, July 9th, accidentally shot himself in the right arm so that its amputation was necessary. Dr. Logue had closed a successful engagement in Portland, and were giving a round of entertainments in the interior, on their way to San Francisco." Those who are conversant with the facts will audibly smile as they read the above. There was a Chas. Sutton who met with an accident, but not the kind of burnt cork notoriety. That good fellow will have to "larf" when he learns that he has lost an arm.

INVITED TO MEET.—All the little girls who participated in the representation of the States and Territories on the 4th inst. are requested to meet this (Monday) afternoon at 4 o'clock sharp at Wood's Museum. The object of the meeting is to make preliminary arrangements for the tableaux which is to be given Wednesday evening, at New Market Theater.

WEATHER REPORT.—From the records of the Signal Station of Observation, Portland, Oregon, July 23, 1876:

	7 A. M.	2. P. M.	9. P. M.
Barometer	62°	70°	67°

HOMEOPATHIC PHYSICIANS.—We are requested to state that there will be a meeting of homeopathic physicians of the State at Salem, Tuesday, the 25th inst. The object of the meeting is to perfect the organization of a State Medical Society. Dr. T. J. Sloan of this city has been selected to deliver a lecture before the society on "The Law of Cure."

ASTORIA LINE COMPLETED.—The Portland-Astoria line is completed and in perfect working order. Offices have been opened at Freeport and Oak Point, Washington Territory, at Westport, Clifton and Astoria, Oregon. Tariff from Portland to Astoria is 75 cents for the first ten words and 25 cents for each additional five words.

REWARD OFFERED.—Messrs. Warren & McCune, whose place of business was entered on night last week by burglars, and between $600 and $1,000 taken away, have offered $400 reward for the recovery of the money. In addition, the authorities of Clatsop county have offered $200 for the apprehension and conviction of the burglars.

BASE BALLISTS.—Members of the Pioneer B. B. club, and all other players of the city are requested to meet at the grounds, west of the Academy this evening at 5 o'clock for a practice game. A full attendance is desired.

If you want a cool glass of Steilacoom or Lemp's Standard beer, go to Adams's Bavarian Hâlle, in the Fine Theater building.

CENTENNIAL BILLS PAID.

Below we present a list of the bills liquidated by the centennial executive committee. So far as the committee is advised, the claims mentioned are all which have been contracted. Those presented thus far have met with prompt payment. If there are any more outstanding bills, the committee has not been notified of their existence. GRAND INSTRUMENTAL CONCERT.—Wednesday evening of the present week the 21st Infantry Band of Vancouver will give a grand instrumental concert at New Market Theater. The programme will include a number of fine classical and operatic selections. During the evening the band will render Wagner's Great Centennial March. Between the first and second parts, a fine tableau will be presented, under the management of R. C. White, Esq. The tableau will represent the States and Territories in the same manner they were on the 4th inst. in the Liberty car—by little girls dressed in appropriate costume. During the tableau the little misses will sing the same song which was sung in front of the grand stand on the 4th. The entertainment promises to be a fine musical treat, and will no doubt be liberally patronized. The object of the concert is to raise funds to defray some of the expenses connected with the Centennial celebration. Full programme will appear in our next issue.

BRIEF NOTES.

Mr. John Holland is now on his way to Celilo there to proceed with work on the new boat for the Lewiston trade.

The City of Salem ran aground below Salem on Friday morning, and did not get off till late on Saturday. She will leave to-day on return trip.

The Bonanza, when the new cabin and other repairs are completed, will be ready for the city and will commence running the night on the upper points on the Willamette.

MILITARY NOTES.

Hospital Stewar Henry A. Noel recently appointed, is, upon the recommendation of the medical director, assigned to duty, temporarily, at Fort Townsend, W. T.

Paragraph 6, special orders No. 96, current series, is revoked. Surgeon George M. Sternberg is appointed to act as inspector on certain subsistence stores at Portland, Oregon, for which Captain Wm. H. Bell, chief commissary of subsistence, depot commissary, is accountable, reported the 12th inst. as requiring the action of an inspector.

CENTENNIAL BILLS PAID.

Below we present a list of the bills liquidated by the centennial executive committee. So far as the committee is advised, the claims mentioned are all which have been contracted. Those presented thus far have met with prompt payment. If there are any more outstanding bills, the committee has not been notified of their existence. A glance at the following array of liquidated claims will serve to indicate how much it has cost our city to celebrate:

GREAT COUNCIL.

FOURTH GREAT SUN'S SESSION OF THE GREAT COUNCIL OF OREGON, I. O. R. M.

FOURTH SUN SESSION.

The Great Council reassembled pursuant to adjournment.

Present—The Great Chiefs and a majority of the representatives.

The special committee on transportation reported that they had obtained half fare rates for Great Chiefs and Representatives, from the Oregon and California Railroad Company, Oregon Steam Navigation Company, and Northwestern Stage Company.

On motion of Representative Sterns, of No. 5, the thanks of the Great Council were tendered to the officers of the above named companies for their courtesy.

On motion, a special committee on compensation, in lieu of mileage, was appointed, consisting of Representatives Utter, of No. 4, Butts, of No. 3, and Schmeer, of No. 6.

Representative Schmeer, of No. 6, propounded the following question: "If a brother resigns from a Tribe and refuses to take a withdrawal card, does his membership cease, or is he still a member of the Tribe until suspended for non-payment of dues?"

Answered by the Great Sachem by referring the members to vol. III, pages 225, 226, 266, 278, Record Great Council of the United States.

The sun having arrived for raising up the Great Chiefs-elect, the bonds of the Great Chief of Records and Great Keeper of Wampum were read, and, upon motion of Representative Sterns of No. 5, were approved.

Thereafter, Past Great Sachem Shaw, assisted by the Great Chiefs, raised up in due form the chiefs-elect, as follows: Great Prophet, John Cimborsky of No. 4; Great Sachem, Ward S. Stevens of No. 3; Great Senior Sagamore, Theodore Barker of No. 4; Great Junior Sagamore, L. O. Sterns of No. 5; Great Keeper of Wampum, G. C. Sears of No. 3.

After which Great Sachem Stevens raised up Le F. A. Shaw, Past Great Sachem, to the stump of Chief of Records.

The Great Sachem then made the following app
